APN Asian REIT Fund (the Fund) is a registered managed investment scheme domiciled in Australia that invests in a portfolio of listed Asian Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs). Dexus Asset Management Limited (DXAM, previously known as APN Funds Management Limited) is the Responsible Entity of the Fund. DXAM oversees the management and strategic direction of the Fund in its role as Responsible Entity.

The registered office of the Responsible Entity of the Fund is Level 25, Australia Square, 264-278 George Street, Sydney, NSW 2000 and its principal place of business is Level 5, 80 Collins Street (South Tower), Melbourne, VIC 3000.

Operating and Financial Review

Last year saw the continuation of the Covid-19 pandemic globally, though operationally many REITs in Asia saw improvements in their earnings due to the lower base effect of the prior year. The Asian REIT market returned -8.9% over FY22, outperforming the Asian equities market that returned -16.5% over the same period (both in Australian Dollars). This performance reversed the positive returns of FY21 where Asian REITs underperformed Asian Equities in strong equity market conditions (14.0% vs 23.5%, in AUD). The Asian REIT Fund also continues to outperform its benchmark, returning -7.7% vs the Asian REIT market benchmark return of -8.9% over FY22, an outperformance of 120bps. Over the course of the pandemic (last 2 years), the Asian REIT market exhibited significantly less volatility compared to the Australian REIT market (by ~56%) and Global REIT market (by ~39%). This is an indication of the maturity and stability of the REIT markets in the Asian region, which appeals to us as an attractive investment destination of choice.

By country, Japan REITs were weakest in the region over FY22 with a return of -15.8% (in AUD), exacerbated by a weak Japanese Yen. Singapore REITs performed the best with a return of 3.64% (in AUD). Japan REITs, along with other REIT markets globally, were negatively impacted sentiment wise by the rapidly tightening monetary policy actions of the US Federal Reserve, as well as geopolitical tensions relating to the Russia/Ukraine crisis. Singapore REITs benefitted from the government taking more significant steps towards treating Covid-19 as endemic, by relaxing the remaining domestic mobility curbs even before caseloads declined and fast-tracking border re-opening with quarantine free travel. Hong Kong REITs outperformed the overall Asian REIT market, with a strong rally towards the end of FY22 after they moved past an Omicron wave. Hong Kong REITs are also poised to be beneficiaries of a significant consumption stimulus provided by the government directly to the wallets of its residents.

The outlook for the Asian REIT sector remains positive given the support by robust industry fundamentals – we see strong tenant demand that is boosting the rental growth outlook in the Singapore office market, and continuing tenant demand strength in logistics and industrial property types across the region. Earnings and dividends are forecast to improve year over year, despite the inflationary pressures and rising interest rate environment, as a majority of REIT managers positioned their balance sheets defensively with more fixed rate debt. Valuations are reasonable especially taking into account the Japan REIT market where spreads continue to be wide (widest globally), due to the continuing low rate of the Japanese bond yield that remains supportive to the REIT market.

Notes to the Financial Statements

In this section

This section sets out the basis upon which the Fund's Financial Statements are prepared.

Basis of preparation

The Financial Statements are general purpose financial reports which have been prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Constitution dated 16 June 2011 of the Fund, the Corporations Act 2001, AASB's issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board and International Financial Reporting Standards adopted by the International Accounting Standard Board.

Unless otherwise stated the Financial Statements have been prepared using consistent accounting policies in line with those of the previous financial year and corresponding interim reporting period. Where required, comparative information has been restated for consistency with the current year's presentation.

The Financial Statements are presented in Australian dollars, with all values rounded to the nearest thousand dollars in accordance with ASIC Corporations (Rounding in Financial/Directors' Reports) Instrument 2016/191, unless otherwise stated.

The Financial Statements have been prepared on a going concern basis using historical cost conventions, except for investments in listed equities which are stated at their fair value.

The Directors of the Responsible Entity of the Fund remain of the opinion that the Fund can continue as a going concern considering its underlying investments are fully liquid, diversified and will be able to meet redemption requests as per the Fund's Product Disclosure Statement ("PDS").

The Financial Statements have therefore been prepared on a going concern basis.

Critical accounting estimates

The preparation of the Financial Statements requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates and management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Fund's accounting policies.

COVID-19

The economic impacts resulting from the Government imposed restrictions in a response to the COVID-19 pandemic have the potential to impact various financial statement line items including financial assets at fair value through profit and loss and expenses.

The financial year saw the continuation of COVID-19 lockdowns globally, which impacted the economy and the ability for business to trade normally. Despite this, the vaccine was successfully rolled out across the world enabling the easing of restrictions before Christmas. Subsequently, the Omicron variant of COVID-19 continues to impact confidence, creating challenges in supply chains which as persisted for the second half of the financial year.

In the process of applying the Fund's accounting policies, management has made a number of judgements and applied estimates in relation to continued COVID-19 related uncertainties. Additionally, management has considered the current economic environment noting recent inflationary impacts and a rising interest rate climate. Other than these and the estimates and assumptions used for the measurement of items held at fair value such as financial instruments, no key assumptions concerning the future or other estimation of uncertainty at the end of each reporting period could have a significant risk of causing material adjustments to the Financial Statements. Whilst the COVID-19 pandemic may have impacted listed equity prices, it does not create any greater degree of judgement or estimate in financial reporting as prices of the Fund's investments are quoted in active markets.

For all of the Fund's financial instruments, quoted market prices are readily available. However, from time to time, certain financial instruments may be fair valued using other valuation techniques that are validated and reviewed periodically.

Climate change

The Fund is continuing to develop its assessment of the impact of climate change in line with emerging industry and regulatory guidance as it considers the impact of climate change risks in preparing the Financial Statements.

In March 2022, the International Sustainability Standards Board (ISSB) released their first two exposure drafts. When the exposure drafts are issued as standards, these will be available for voluntary adoption and will not become mandatory until aligned standards are adopted in Australia. The Fund will assess the potential impact of these new standards on the financial statements once they have been issued by the ISSB and will continue to monitor developments in Australia.

Key accounting policies

Financial assets held at fair value through profit or loss

(a) Classification

The Fund's investments comprising of listed equities and investment schemes are classified as at fair value through profit or loss as they are managed, and their performance evaluated, on a fair value basis.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Fund takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/or disclosure purposes in these financial statements is determined on such a basis.

(b) Recognition and derecognition

The Fund recognises financial assets on the date it becomes party to the contractual agreement (trade date) and recognises changes in fair value of the financial assets from this date.

Financial assets are derecognised when the right to receive cash flows from the investments has expired or the Fund has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership.

(c) Measurement

Subsequent to initial recognition, all financial assets held at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value with changes in their fair value recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Fair value of listed equities and investments schemes is based on their quoted closing prices on the relevant stock exchanges at the end of the reporting date.

Distribution and interest income

Income is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Distribution income is recognised on a receivable basis at the quoted ex-distribution date.

Interest income from a financial asset is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Fund and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a pro-rata basis taking into account the effective yield on the financial asset.

Distributions to unitholders

In accordance with the Fund's Constitution dated 16 June 2011, the Fund attributes its taxable income to unitholders by way of a cash distribution or distribution reinvestment into the Fund. Distributions are payable monthly.

Applications and redemptions

Applications received for units in the Fund are recorded net of any entry fees payable to the issue of units in the Fund. Redemptions from the Fund are recorded net of any exit fees payable.

The application and redemption prices are determined by reference to the Fund's net asset value adjusted for the estimated transaction costs, divided by the number of units on issue on the date of the application or redemption.

Foreign currency translation

(a) Functional and presentation currency

The Financial Statements of the Fund are presented in the currency of the primary economic environment in which it operates (the "functional currency"). This is the Australian dollar ("A$"), which reflects the currency of the economy in which the Fund competes for funds and is regulated. The Australian dollar is also the Fund's presentation currency.

(b) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated into the functional currency using the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transactions.

At the end of the reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the exchange rates prevailing at balance date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the exchange rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was determined.

Expenses

All expenses, including management fees, are recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income on an accrual basis.

Income tax

The Fund is a “flow-through” entity for Australian income tax purposes and has elected into the Attribution Managed Investment Trusts rules on and from 1 July 2017, such that the determined trust components of the Fund will be taxable in the hands of the beneficiaries (the unitholders) on an attribution basis.

Accordingly, deferred taxes have not been recognised in the financial statements in relation to differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases, including taxes on capital gains/losses which could arise in the event of a sale of investments for the amount at which they are stated in the Financial Statements.

Goods and services tax

Revenues, expenses and capital assets are recognised net of any amount of Australian Goods and Services Tax (GST), except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable. In these circumstances the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense. Cash flows are included in the Statement of Cash Flows on a gross basis. The GST component of cash flows arising from investing and financing activities that is recoverable from or payable to the Australian Taxation Office is classified as cash flows from operating activities.

Capital and financial risk management and working capital

In this section

The Fund's overall risk management program focuses on reducing volatility from impacts of movements in financial markets and seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on the financial performance of the Fund.

Note 3 Capital and financial risk management outlines how the Fund manages its exposure to a variety of financial risks (interest rate risk, price risk, liquidity risk and credit risk).

The Fund Manager in consultation with the DXAM Board determines the appropriate capital structure of the Fund and how much is raised from unitholders (equity) in order to finance the Fund's activities both now and in the future. This capital structure is detailed in the following notes:

- Debt: Commitments and contingencies in note 4; and
- Equity: Contributed equity in note 5.

Note 6 provides a breakdown of the working capital balances held in the Statement of Financial Position.

Note 3 Capital and financial risk management

The Responsible Entity is responsible for ensuring a prudent risk management culture is established for the Fund. This is reflected in the adoption of a Risk Management Framework that clearly defines risk appetite and risk tolerance limits which are consistent the Fund's investment mandate.

The Fund's Manager is responsible for overseeing the establishment and implementation of appropriate systems, controls, and policies to manage the Fund's risk. The focus is on ensuring compliance with the approved Risk Management Framework whilst seeking to maximise the returns derived for the level of risk to which the Fund is exposed.

The effective design and operation of the risk management systems, controls and policies is overseen by the Responsible Entity and its Audit, Risk and Compliance Committee.

Risk management in respect to financial instruments is achieved via written policies that establish risk appetite and tolerance limits in respect to exposure to interest rate risk, credit risk and the investment of excess liquidity. Compliance with these policies and exposure limits is reviewed by the Responsible Entity on a continuous basis.

National Australia Bank Limited acts as the master custodian on behalf of the Responsible Entity and, as such, provides services including physical custody and safekeeping of assets, settlement of trades and collection of income.

Financial instruments

The Fund holds a range of financial instruments including:

- Cash and cash equivalents
- Receivables
- Investment in listed equities and funds
- Payables

Transactions in these instruments expose the Fund to a variety of financial risks including market risk (which includes interest rate risk and other price risks), credit risk, and liquidity risk. The Fund does not enter into or trade financial instruments for speculative purposes.

d) Capital risk management

The Responsible Entity's objective when managing capital is to safeguard its ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can continue to provide returns for unitholders in accordance with the Fund's investment strategy.

The capital structure of the Fund consists of cash and cash equivalents and the proceeds from the issue of the units of the Fund. The Fund Manager aims to ensure that there is sufficient capital for possible redemptions by unitholders.

The Fund has no restrictions or specific capital requirements on the application and redemption of units other than those imposed by Corporations Act 2001. The Fund's overall investment strategy remains unchanged from the prior year.

e) Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of the Fund's financial instruments will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. The Fund Manager manages the financial risks relating to the operations of the Fund in accordance with an investment mandate set out in accordance with the Fund's Constitution dated 16 June 2011 and PDS. The Fund's investment mandate is to provide investors with a consistent, relatively high level of income combined with some capital growth, sourced from an appropriately widespread of property-based revenue streams. There has been no change to the Fund's exposure to market risks or the manner in which it manages and measures the risk. Components of market risk to which the Fund is exposed are interest rate risk, price risk and currency risk.

Interest rate risk

The Fund's interest bearing financial assets expose it to risks associated with the effects of fluctuations in the prevailing levels of market interest rates on its financial position and cash flows. The risk is measured using sensitivity analysis.

The Fund's policy is to hold up to a maximum of 10% (2021: 10%) of its total investments in cash and fixed interest securities.

Interest rate sensitivity

The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on the Fund's exposure to interest rates at the reporting date and the stipulated change taking place at the beginning of the financial year and held constant throughout the reporting period, in the case of instruments that have floating interest rates.

The table below shows the impact on the Fund's net interest income of a 100 basis point movement in market interest rates on cash and cash equivalents.

	2022 (+/-) $'000	2021 (+/-) $'000
+/- 1.00% (100 basis points)	3	7
Total	3	7

Note 3 Capital and financial risk management (continued)

The interest rate movements have been determined based on management's best estimate, having regard to historical levels of changes in interest rates and the current environment in which the Fund operates.

Actual movements in the interest rate may be greater or less than anticipated due to a number of factors, including unusually large market shocks both in the global and domestic markets. As a result, historic variations in interest rates are not a definitive indicator of future variations.

Price risk

The Fund has investments in equity instruments, which exposes it to price risk. Price risk is the risk that the total value of investments will fluctuate as a result of changes in market prices, whether caused by factors specific to an individual investment, its issuer or all factors affecting all instruments traded in the market. The Fund Manager manages the Fund's market risk on a daily basis in accordance with the Fund's investment objectives and policies, as detailed in the Fund's Constitution dated 16 June 2011 and PDS.

As the Fund's financial instruments are carried at fair value with changes in the fair value recognised in the Statement of Comprehensive Income, all changes in market conditions will directly affect distribution income.

The COVID-19 pandemic, along with a rising interest rate environment and the potential for sustained inflationary impacts has created unprecedented uncertainty. Actual economic events and conditions in the future may be materially different from those estimated by the Fund at the reporting date.

The following table illustrates the effect on net profit / (loss) from a 10% change in the underlying investments:

	2022 (+/-) $'000	2021 (+/-) $'000
+/- 10%	5,166	5,585
Total	5,166	5,585

An overall increase/(decrease) in market price will result in an increase/(decrease) in net profit/(loss) respectively.

Currency risk

Currency risk is the risk that the market value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign currency exchange rates. The Fund invests in listed Asian REIT securities, which hold underlying investments in countries other than Australia. As the Fund is managed on an unhedged basis, it is exposed to the following currencies - Hong Kong Dollars (HKD), Japanese Yen (JPY), Singapore Dollars (SGD), Chinese Yuan (CNY) and New Zealand Dollars (NZD).

At the reporting date the carrying value of the Fund's net financial assets and liabilities held in these individual foreign currencies expressed in Australian dollars and as a percentage of its net assets were as follows:

	2022		2021
	AUD $'000	% of net assets	AUD $'000	% of net assets
HKD	7,041	13.5%	6,855	12.1%
JPY	20,414	39.2%	24,315	43.0%
SGD	24,292	46.6%	24,701	43.7%
NZD	258	0.5%	556	1.0%

Currency sensitivity

The Fund is mainly exposed to the SGD, JPY, HKD and NZD currencies. The following table details the Fund's sensitivity to a 10% (2021: 10%) increase and decrease in the Australian Dollar against these currencies and the effect on the Fund's profit or loss and net assets attributable to unitholders. 10% is the sensitivity rate used when reporting foreign currency risk internally to the key management personnel and represents management's assessment of the possible change in foreign exchange rates.

A positive number indicates an increase in profit attributable to unitholders and net assets, where the Australian Dollar weakens against the respective currency.

For a strengthening of the Australian dollar against the respective currency there would be an equal and opposite impact on the profit attributable to unitholders and net assets as set out in the tables below. The methods and assumptions used to prepare the sensitivity analysis have not changed from prior year.

	Effect on profit attributable to unitholders (AUD)		% of net assets
	2022 $'000	2021 $'000	2022	2021
HKD	640	623	1.2%	1.1%
JPY	1,856	2,210	3.6%	3.9%
SGD	2,208	2,246	4.2%	4.0%
NZD	45	51	0.1%	0.1%

f) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations resulting in financial loss to the Fund. Credit risk arises from cash and cash equivalents and deposits with banks and financial institutions, as well as credit exposures to wholesale and retail unitholders, including outstanding receivables and committed transactions.

Credit risk controls assess the credit quality of the counterparty, taking into account its financial position, past experience and other factors. The Fund has adopted the policy of only dealing with creditworthy counterparties as a means of mitigating the risk of financial loss from default. The Fund's investment objective is to find high quality counterparties predominately with a stable credit history. The Fund measures credit risk on a fair value basis.

Credit risk arising on loans and receivable balances is monitored on an ongoing basis with the result that the Fund's exposure to bad debts is not significant. There are no significant financial assets that have had renegotiated terms that would otherwise have been past due or impaired.

The maximum exposure to credit risk as at 30 June 2022 and 30 June 2021 is the carrying amounts of financial assets recognised in the Statement of Financial Position of the Fund. The Fund holds no collateral as security and the credit quality of all financial assets that are neither past due or impaired is consistently monitored in order to identify any potential adverse changes in the credit quality.

The Fund does not have a significant credit risk exposure to any single counterparty or counterparties having similar characteristics.

Note 3 Capital and financial risk management (continued)

g) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk includes the risk that the Fund, as a result of its operations:

- Will not have sufficient funds to settle a transaction or unit redemption on the due date
- Will be forced to sell financial assets at a value which is less than what they are worth
- May be unable to settle or recover a financial asset at all

The Fund is considered liquid in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, with unitholders able to withdraw their units at any time, exposing the Fund to liquidity risk. As such, the Fund's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure that it has sufficient cash and cash equivalents and highly liquid financial assets to meet its liabilities. As the Fund's primary investment objective is to invest in highly liquid listed real estate securities, the Fund's exposure to liquidity risk is considered to be low.

The table below shows an analysis of the contractual maturities of liabilities which forms part of the Fund's assessment of liquidity risk:

	Less than 3 months $'000	3 months to 1 year $'000	1 to 5 years $'000	Over 5 years $'000	Total $'000
2022
Liabilities
Payables	(115)	-	-	-	(115)
Provisions	(280)	-	-	-	(280)
Total	(395)	-	-	-	(395)
	Less than 3 months $'000	3 months to 1 year $'000	1 to 5 years $'000	Over 5 years $'000	Total $'000
2021
Liabilities
Payables	(139)	-	-	-	(139)
Provisions	(263)	-	-	-	(263)
Total	(402)	-	-	-	(402)

The Fund is able to sufficiently meet its liquidity obligations through the receipt of distribution income, additional applications received from investors and also via the sale of listed investments where required.

h) Fair value

The Fund uses the following methods in the determination and disclosure of the fair value of financial instruments:

Level 1: the fair value is calculated using quoted prices in active markets.

Level 2: the fair value is determined using inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e., as prices) or indirectly (i.e., derived from prices).

Level 3: the fair value is estimated using inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable data.

All listed equities included in Financial assets recognised at fair value through profit or loss within the Statement of Financial Position were measured at Level 1 for the periods presented in this report.

During the year, there were no transfers between Level 1, 2 and 3 fair value measurements.

Note 4 Commitments and contingencies

The Directors of the Responsible Entity are not aware of any commitments or contingent liabilities in relation to the Fund (2021: nil), other than those disclosed in the Financial Statements, which should be brought to the attention of unitholders as at the date of completion of this report.

Note 5 Contributed equity

Each unit ranks equally with all other units for the purposes of distributions and on termination of the Fund. Each unit entitles the holder to vote in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution dated 16 June 2011 and the Corporations Act 2001.

Transaction costs arising on the issuance of equity instruments are recognised directly in equity as a reduction of the proceeds of the equity instruments to which the costs relate. Transaction costs are the costs that are incurred directly in connection with the issue of those equity instruments and which would not have been incurred had those instruments not been issued or bought back.
